

Figure S1. (a): Pino Seco (SE) broken by a gale following the fire of summer 2007. (b): Pino de La Lajilla (LA) fallen following its death and with disks that have already been cut. (c): Pino de Pilancones (PI) in 2004. (d): PI fallen and debarked after death. (e): obtaining digital images of the whole disk, the lightwood extraction wound is marked in red, a semicircular scar caused by an old fire is marked in plum and two of the 13 radii measured are marked in orange and light green, respectively.